TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Little Chit Chat on Election Results.

MANY CREDIT SEEKERS!

Results That Show the Good Effect of Thorough Organization for Work in Local and Other Campaigns.

The election is over, but it will take some time for its effects to pass away. The Democrats are, quite naturally, very disconsolate and the Citizens are proportionately jubilant. It is now that the men who "did the work that counted" are appearing, and they are very numerous. It would take a census enumerator to enroll them. As usual, a large number of the claimants are not bona fide. The men who were of actual service are found among the silent guard; few in number, but strong in influence. They generally carry their honors modestly. Among these men is William T. Trezise, one of the present School Directors of the Third ward. It can be said without fear of contradiction that no man in the borough worked harder and more persistently for the success of the Citizens ticket in the campaign just closed than the gentleman named, and there was hardly an important move made in any of the wards that did not owe either its origin or propulsion to some idea, or labor, on his part. It is regretted that the majority of the Citizens party is not constituted of such wide-awake, active, diligent and untiring workers as Mr. Trezise. If such were the case there would never be any doubt about the selection and election of suitable men to take charge of the borough's interests. It should also be said of this gentleman that, while he is a party worker, he is liberal and displays judgment which is about as faultless as most men are endowed with. To his judgment much is due for the election of such trustworthy men as T. R. Edwards, J. J. Price and T. S. James to the School Board. It is ventured that a more competent and estimable trio has never been elected to the Board.

The Democrats were not "in it" in the Second ward from the time the polls opened to the close. They had but 40 straight votes, while the Citizens party had 173. The real fight here was between P. J. Ferguson and F. E. Magargle. The rest of the ticket seemed to drift with this part of the Councilmanic result. The surprising majority given to the Citizens candidates can be accounted for in many ways. These candidates were assisted materially from what became known as "a bank fight." To the uninitiated there should be some enlightenment on this point. Mr. Ferguson is the president of the First National Bank, which has held the deposits of the borough treasurers for many years. Recently the Merchants' National Bank has shown a disposition to become the depository of the borough's funds, and when arrangements were made for the election the friends of the latter bank were not blind to its interests. This fight explains the influence openly turned in favor of the Citizens candidates on election day by the Bradigan faction. Mr. Bradigan, the present borough treasurer, being one of the Merchants' Bank stockholders.

One of the excellent results of the election in the Fifth ward to the Citizens party is the capture of the election board. The oldest inhabitant says it has always been Democratic. John Lenahan has been the Judge of Election for many years, and to him vacating the position is much like abandoning a homestead. Larry Cullen's defeat for Assessor in that ward has an effect similar to that caused by Mr. Lenahan's retirement. Larry has been Assessor for several years and is well spoken of by people of both political parties, but he was obliged to go down before the cyclone as the people would not discriminate when at the polls. The defeat of H. J. Muldoon, the Democratic candidate for School Director, was a big surprise to his friends. They did not think the split in the party would affect him to the extent that it did. Harry conceded his defeat by 28 votes shortly after the polls closed and long before the count was made. He was not far from the correct figure, which was 19. He feels sore over his defeat, but a stranger would not think so. He smiles as ever.

The luckiest man of all the successful Democrats was Patrick Connors, of the Fourth ward. He made his first appearance as a political candidate last Tuesday and will probably remember the contest as one of the most exciting experiences of his life. It was also the first political experience of his opponent, Henry L. Jones. That gentleman displayed a strength at both the primary and election that showed him to be a very strong man. His strength surprised many.

The close observer can discern a beneficial influence for the Citizens party from a source which has received attention from but few. This source was in the products of P. J. Mulholland, who was defeated by Mr. Severn for Controller. They found an opportunity on Tuesday to get a whack at some people whom they believe failed to stand up for Mr. P. J. M. when that gentleman was aspiring to supervise the accounts of the county. Politics make strange bed fellows.

The Polish and Lithuanian element was a very important factor at several of the polls. They were out openly for the Citizens ticket this spring, and many were noticed with their sleeves rolled up to the shoulder. Still, quite a number stood by the Democratic tickets, evidently impressed with the idea that sometime they may become recipients of some patronage from Washington, D. C.

If the Citizens party is discrete and judicious in the management of the borough affairs it can hold a lease on it for years to come. There is no doubt that a great many Democrats are so thoroughly disgusted with their party in all affairs, local, state and national, that with evidence of a disposition to do what is right by the party in power will almost convert them. An honest, fair and straightforward administration will eventually kill the Tiger that has been preying upon the town.

In discussing the causes and effects of the campaign and the influence that brought them about the Shenandoah Republican League should not be lost from sight. This body has effectually demonstrated what can be accomplished by thorough organization. The Borough Auditor, three School Directors, three Councilmen and two of the Assessors elected are among its members.

Schoppe's orchestra of ten pieces will hold a dance in Robbins' Opera House Thursday evening next.

Will Celebrate the Day.

The celebration of Washington's Birthday, so far as the Patriotic Order Sons of America is concerned, will not be observed in Shenandoah. The organization in this district will honor the memory of the immortal hero by a monster re-union and public meeting in Grandville, at which some of the ablest members of the order in this section will deliver addresses. Extensive preparations have been made to accommodate the visitors, and the indications point to a most successful gathering. In the afternoon, at 2 o'clock, a re-union of the camps will be held, at which the principal subject for discussion will be, "Is an educational qualification deemed necessary for the elective franchise?" The re-union will be confined to members of the order. Supper will be served the visiting members, after which a public meeting will be held in the evening in the Palace theatre. The principal speaker will be Rev. Fitzwilliams, and the program will be interspersed with recitations, addresses, vocal and instrumental music. The local camps will send large delegations.

Dance at Robbins' Opera House, Thursday evening. Schoppe Orchestra of ten pieces.

James Young as "Hamlet."

After the surfeit of farce comedies and the lurid drama it is a pleasure to announce the coming of an actor of sterling worth like Mr. Young, who will be the attraction at Ferguson's theatre on Saturday evening, February 23rd. Mr. Young has just concluded a most triumphant tour of the South. "Hamlet," the play he has made his most careful study, will be given on Saturday night and it is the most popular with the masses of any of the great bard's writings. All the costumes, scenery and the effects are the same as used in the New York and Philadelphia productions. In the latter city the production had a run of eight weeks to packed houses.

American Demonstration Association.

The delegates to the American Demonstration Association will meet in Egau's hall, this town, tomorrow afternoon. The association is composed of all the patriotic organizations in this and adjoining counties, and the primary object is to bring these societies into closer affiliation. The meeting to-morrow is for the purpose of discussing questions of interest to the several orders, and the election of officers. The annual parade will be held at Schenck Hill Haven on Labor Day, that having been decided upon at a previous meeting of the association at Mr. Carmel.

Social To-night.

The Schoppe Orchestra Social will be held in Robbins' opera house to-night. It will be one of the events of the season, and it is expected that prominent people from many parts of the county will be in attendance. The full orchestra will furnish the music.

Membership Increasing.

There has been a rapid increase in the membership of the Columbia H. & S. F. E. Co. of late, and it is still increasing. This pioneer volunteer fire organization of the town never decreases in popularity, and a membership in it is looked upon as an honor.

Just Received.

Have you tried those Deep Creek and Pocumoke (Va.) River oysters, steamed at the Scheiffy House? If not do not delay, as they will not be shipped after this month. They are the only flavored oyster in the local market.

THE BOARD UNDER ARREST

Steps in the First Ward Election Cases.

THREE MEN UNDER BAIL.

The Judge and Inspector of Election and the Ward Constable Waive a Hearing on the Charges.

The First ward election case was brought to a focus last night by proceedings before Justice Martin Lawlor, instituted by the ejected Overseers.

Messrs. F. C. Reese and Maurice Morrison went before the Justice and swore out warrants for the arrest of two members of the election board, Martin Mullahy, the Judge, and Martin Lally, the Inspector, and constable of the ward. Two of the accused men were at once arrested. Lally waived a hearing and entered $500 bail for trial at court, William McGuire, the president of the Town Council, furnishing the bond. Constable Giblin also waived a hearing, and John Slattery furnished bail for him.

The warrants were issued at the instance of T. R. Beddall, Esq., who has been employed as counsel by the prosecutors and who will have the assistance of other able counsel to help the Commonwealth when the cases are brought up for trial.

The specific charge made against Mullahy and Lally is as follows: "That when, on Tuesday, February 19th, 1895, they did present to the election officers of the First ward of the borough of Shenandoah the certificate of their appointment as Overseers of the election held in the said First ward of Shenandoah, on the day and year above written, Martin Mullahy, Judge, and Martin Lally, the minority inspector, of the said district, did refuse to permit them to perform the duties enjoined upon them, contrary to the Act of Assembly made and provided."

The warrant upon which the constable was arrested is in substantially the same form, and recites that he ejected the Overseers from the electors' room and refused to permit them to be present, etc.

Judge of Election Mullahy appeared before Justice Lawlor this morning and, like the others, waived a hearing and entered $500 bail. Tax Collector Scanlan furnished the security.

EXPLOSION AT WM. PENN.

Three Men Were Burned, But Not Seriously.

An explosion of gas occurred in a breast of the Wm. Penn colliery, at 8:30 o'clock this morning, by which three men were injured, but fortunately the results of the accident were not of a very serious character. The victims were Thomas D. James, the fire boss, and Felix Adrick and George Kupchinski, two Polish residents of town.

James received burns about the face, Adrick was burned about the face and neck and Kupchinski had his head scorched. It is not known exactly how the explosion occurred. The three men entered the breast, with the fire boss in the lead and after they ascended some distance the explosion occurred. It was supposed the place was free of gas. The explosion was a light one. The gas is supposed to have been ignited by one of the men who were following the fire boss. All of the victims received treatment at their homes.

The Woods Filling.

Applicants for appointments to positions under the Borough Council and School Board are coming to the front. The following are spoken of: David Brown and David H. Llewellyn, for Supervisor; Thomas Lee, Harry Bishop, David Rennie, Frank Gublick, John Swindt, George Holvey, Christ. Foltz, Edward Kester, Henry Goodman, Samuel Hess and Matt Kepchinski, policemen; M. J. Lawlor, John L. Hassler and W. J. Watkins, Town Clerk; H. A. Swalin, Borough Treasurer; James H. Morgan, Superintendent of Public Water Works; J. H. Pomeroy and S. G. M. Hollinger, Esq., Borough Solicitors; Moses Owens, H. E. Denzler, T. J. Broughall and Charles Strouse, Treasurer of the School Board.

No Celebration.

Washington's Birthday will pass this year without formal observance by the citizens of this town, other than the closing of the public schools and perhaps scattering business places. To all appearances the "Father of His Country" and his deeds have become an unimportant back number to the people of this place, and must accept the recognition of other historical people and events that live only between book covers. Of late years the day has created but little interest here, but it seldom passes with the little recognition to be awarded this time.

Rumors of Immediate Appointment of Water Works Superintendent.

A report got abroad to-day that the Democratic members of the Borough Council have decided to make a bold stroke before relinquishing their control by appointing James Bell superintendent of the public water works for a term of five years.

Citizen members of Council who heard the report manifested no uneasiness. They say no appointment of that kind can be legally made until the office is created by Council, and it can only be created by ordinance. To give an ordinance force it must be read before the Borough Council three times and published ten days. This cannot be done within the time that is to elapse before the new Council will organize. Council will hold a regular meeting to-night.
